

BLAMES PHYSICIANS FOR THE BLINDNESS OF CHILDREN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 31. — One-third of the blind children of the country are the victims of careless physicians or midwives. This is the startling charge that George W. Jones, superintendent of the Illinois school for the blind, makes in an article in the bulletin of the State Board of Charities. Superintendent Jones says: "Inflammation of the eyes of the newborn baby is an acute infection of the eyes opening from one to three days after birth. A one-per cent solution of silver nitrate is an absolute specific for this disease and a one per cent solution can be administered without danger by the most untutored physician."

SEARCH ALL NIGHT FOR DESPERATE CONVICT

SAN RAFAEL, July 31.—An all night search by nearly 100 men for Charles Ross, an escaped convict from San Quentin penitentiary, resulted in failure and the guards returned to the prison without finding a trace of the desperate man. Meanwhile prison guards and officers from the neighboring towns and cities have taken up the search. Ross is a dangerous and desperate man, and great precautions are observed by those engaged in the search. He is one of the Russian spies who, escaped from Saghalien island several years ago and made their way to San Francisco. He is a second-term at San Quentin, his last sentence having been for a period of eight years. He has served but little more than one year of this sentence. He committed a number of burglaries in San Francisco, for which he was sentenced.

LEAGUE GIVING DOUBLE CROSS

Francis Heney, in Berkeley Speech, Orders League Men to Vote Against Senator George C. Perkins.

Francis J. Heney, a well-known Democrat, delivered an address at West Berkeley last night and advised the Lincoln-Roosevelt League Republicans of Alameda county to vote against Senator George C. Perkins. The advice of Mr. Heney presents an interesting question to the alleged reformers of the league. Mr. Heney in his speech said:

"Vote for the Lincoln-Roosevelt nominees, because they will be pledged to a direct primary law."

FALSE CHARGE.

Mr. Heney also charged Senator Perkins with voting against the railroad pass bill not to allow Federal judges to accept passes, and also against the employer's liability law, which gave the employe of the railroad a right to collect damages if he was not entirely to blame for an accident.

The truth is, and the Congressional records show, that Senator Perkins, as well as Senator Flint, voted for both these bills. But the interesting point involved in Mr. Heney's suggestion to vote for the Lincoln-Roosevelt candidates is the statement of the leaders in the league in this county that every Lincoln-Roosevelt League candidate for the Senate and Assembly is for Senator Perkins.

THE DOUBLE CROSS.

Mr. Heney, the leading Democrat of the league, declares to the league forces that they must not vote for Perkins, but, on the contrary, they must vote for candidates who are opposed to the Senator. The league leaders are taking the stump and declaring that every candidate on their legislative ticket in Alameda county is for Senator Perkins. Somebody is getting the double cross. Is Mr. Heney's advice going to be followed or is the advice of the local leaders going to be followed in regard to the league candidates? The situation is a very interesting one from a political point of view. Here is a case where the league people are caught in the act of blowing hot and blowing cold.

WANT THE OFFICES.

However, Senator George C. Perkins is too well known in Alameda county to need a defense against any charges Mr. Heney, the Democrat, might make. The statement of Mr. Heney last night simply showed that the Lincoln-Roosevelt people are not sincere, but, on the contrary, they are using every foul means to try and capture the machinery of the Republican party for the purpose of dealing out the loaves and fishes to their friends.

Senator Perkins Nails Lying Statements of Francis Heney

Francis J. Heney, in his speech in Berkeley last night, said: "Senators Flint and Perkins both voted against the railroad pass bill not to allow the Federal judges to accept passes, and both voted against the employer's liability law, which gave an employe of a railroad the right to collect damages if he was not entirely to blame for an accident."

UNQUALIFIEDLY FALSE

Senator Perkins today said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "Like the majority of Mr. Heney's statements, this is unqualifiedly false. It he had taken the trouble to consult the Congressional Record, wherein is a record of the acts and votes of each member of Congress, he would have seen that on May 16, 1906, page 7164 of the Congressional Record, which contains records of the second session of the Fifty-ninth Congress, both Senators Flint and Perkins voted in favor of the amendment to the railway rate law, prohibiting the giving of passes to any but railway employes."

"On May 18, 1906, the railway rate law was passed by the Senate and on page 7292 of the same Congressional Record can be found the names of Senators Flint and Perkins voting in the affirmative."

"On page 7165 of the same record President Roosevelt's opinion of the above bill is set forth as follows:

WHAT PRESIDENT SAID

"The Hepburn bill, with the Allison amendment, contains practically exactly what I have both originally and always since asked for, and if enacted into law, it will represent the longest step I have yet taken in the direction of solving the railroad rate problem."

PERKINS' VOTE

"In regard to the employer's liability bill, which was passed

INSANE MAN ASSAULTS INVALIDS

Maniac in German Hospital, San Francisco, Attacks Nurse and Suffering Patients.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31. — Confined in the male ward of the German hospital, suffering from typhoid fever, William Burns was suddenly taken with a fit of insanity last evening and before he was finally subdued had completely wrecked the place. He attacked his nurse, when the young woman sought to quiet him. The nurse was not seriously injured.

Burns was regarded as a very sick man and no special attention was paid to him. The nurse had left the room for a moment, and was standing in the hallway when she was attracted by a terrible racket. On entering she found Burns smashing chairs on the beds and throwing their occupants to the floor.

Patients too ill to be moved were dragged from their chairs and hurled against the wall by the mad man.

The nurse called for help and Burns was subdued after a desperate struggle. He was removed later to the detention hospital to be examined as to his sanity by the board which meets tomorrow.

Aged Woman Struck By Fast-Moving Car

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—While waiting for a car at the corner of Pierce and McAllister streets at 10:30 o'clock this morning, Mrs. Julia McCarthy, of 1408 McAllister street, was knocked down and badly injured by a car going in the opposite direction. Mrs. McCarthy is 66 years of age. She was picked up and taken to the Central Emergency Hospital.

Locate Forty Bombs of Mexican Rebels

EL PASO, Texas, July 31.—Deputy United States Marshal Hildebrand today located two score of bombs three miles northwest of El Paso, where it is believed Mexican revolutionists had hidden them. A secret service officer from San Antonio traced the bombs from Yalota, below El Paso, to the place where they were found today.

Governor Suffers Nervous Breakdown

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 31.—Governor Little of Arkansas has been placed in a sanitarium here. He has been suffering from a nervous breakdown almost ever since his election, which has developed acute melancholia.

SENATOR LUKENS SENDS MESSAGE TO HIS FRIENDS

He Will Be Home Before August 11. Mullins Candidate For Supervisor. Political Meetings Being Held in County.

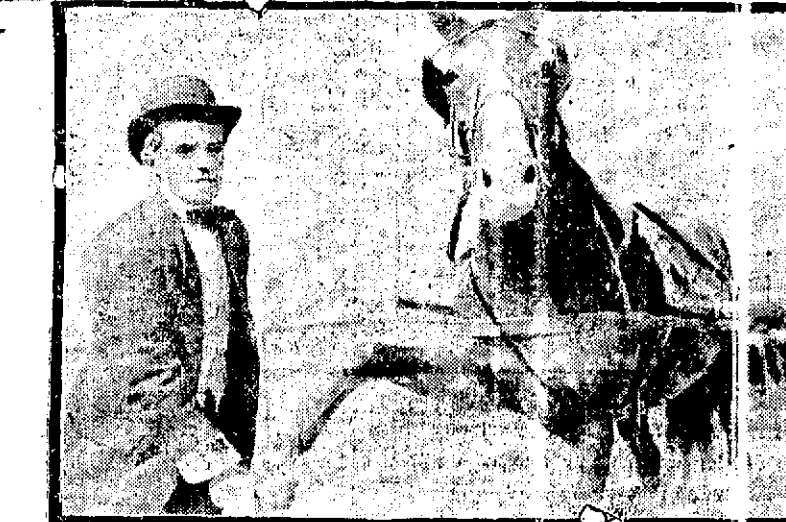

The following dispatches concerning G. R. Lukens are self-explanatory:

Washington, D. C., July 30, 1908.
Hon. Henry A. Melvin, Oakland, Cal.—Am feeling very well and rapidly regaining my strength, but on advice of Dr. Cushing have been taking complete rest. I greatly appreciate the action of my friends before I left putting me forward to succeed myself as State Senator, and their steadfast constancy during my absence. I shall be grateful for their continued efforts and believe my eight years' experience in California Senate ought to qualify me to represent the people of the district more efficiently than ever. Earnestly desiring their support in this campaign, if they

HULDA VON HOFEN

The girl wife — Hulda von Hofen, before her marriage — whom John Siemsen, one of the men executed today, won by expensive presents of gems, automobiles, rides and everything that a lover could lavish upon her, all paid for with money taken from murdered victims. Louis Dabner, the younger of the two executed murderers, had just left high school when he was induced by Siemsen to enter upon his short but bloody career of crime. One of his redeeming traits was his love for dumb animals. He is shown with his favorite horse. John Siemsen was a Kanaka, bred of good family and educated in a select school. He was a handsome, debonaire fellow, before crime coarsened his features.

LOUIS DABNER

William J. Dingee Is Prevented From Telling About Heney's $30,000 Fee

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31. — William J. Dingee, former president of the Contra Costa Water company, was not allowed today to answer a series of questions put to him by Attorney Newburg, representing Abraham Ruef, regarding the alleged payment of a $30,000 fee to Francis J. Heney, the Sprinkler special prosecutor.

All of the questions were objected to by Assistant District Attorney Ward and the objections were sustained by the court. Dingee said he was not an expert on fees.

The cross-examination of Mr. Dingee was concluded this morning and an adjournment taken until 7:30 this evening when "Big Jim" Gallagher will be placed on the stand to be cross-examined by Attorney Newburg regarding certain statements which would seem to conflict with the testimony of Miss Condon, stenographer for the grand jury. If Gallagher's cross-examination is completed tonight it is thought that both sides will close and the matter will then be in the hands of Judge Cabaniss to decide whether or not the former boss will be held to answer before the Superior Court.

Children Struck By Trolley Car

While on their way to spend a penny at a neighboring candy store, Amy and Alfred Nordonschuld were struck by an electric car.

The little boy, Alfred, aged seven, was badly bruised and cut on the forehead and received a gash on the back of his head.

Amy, aged five sustained a fractured collar bone and a lacerated wound on the hip.

The children live near Fresno and during the intense heat in the valley have been visiting with their aunt at 961 Chester street. Their mother is not here at the present time.

SIEMSEN RECOILS AT TOUCH OF ROPE

Both Men Accept the End Calmly, Despite the Momentary Weakness of One.

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., July 31.—John Siemsen and Louis Dabner, the notorious "gas-pipe thugs" of San Francisco, were hanged in the prison yard this morning in the presence of 200 spectators. They went to their death calmly and made no scene at the end.

The double trap was sprung at 10:04 o'clock. Dabner was pronounced dead by the prison physicians at 10:14 and Siemsen at 10:15. As they stood together on the platform, just before the black masks were adjusted, Siemsen, in a voice audible to all within the enclosure, said: "Good-bye."

Dabner nodded his head faintly at this, but made no sound with his lips, which seemed to move very slightly.

The two condemned men walked from the death chamber to the scaffold firmly. Dabner seemed to be the more self-possessed, but there was no sign of any great weakness in either one of them as they ascended the steps leading to the platform.

SIEMSEN WEAKENS.

Siemsen was visibly nervous when the noose was adjusted, and for an instant it seemed that he was about to collapse. But suddenly he rallied, and was calm and firm to the last.

PRIESTS ATTEND MEN.

Fathers Walsh and Kalany were in attendance on the men, having been with them since the time of their awakening early in the morning.

Dabner had slept well, but Siemsen spent the greater part of the night in writing letters to relatives and former acquaintances. The men partook of a breakfast, both eating sparingly and talked together after awakening.

ACCEPT RELIGION.

They accepted the ministrations of the priests in silence, and arose quickly to their feet when told that the time had come for them to march to the gallows.

Arrangements for the execution were carried out without a hitch.

The Japanese consul in San Francisco and H. Behrend, the man who caused the arrest of the pair after their crimes in San Francisco, were present.

THEIR LAST NIGHT.

WALKS FROM HERE TO N. Y.

Army Sergeant From Presidio Completes Overland Journey Afoot After Great Hardships.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Completing a walk from San Francisco to New York in sixty-three days and twenty-three hours, which he said was a record, Sergeant Walsh of the United States army, on a turlough from his station at the Presidio, walked into the mayor's office in this city. He carried a pole from which the American flag flew. Sergeant Walsh said he made the walk on a wager that he could not cross the great divide, and he asserted that he had already crossed it once going west. When lost fifty pounds during the trip and declared he would not make it again for $100,000.

JOHN MITCHELL IS OUT OF FIGHT

To the Public:—I am not a candidate for renomination. For twelve years I have held the office of Supervisor and during that time I have been kindly, very kindly, treated by the public. It has been my endeavor to serve the interests of the people, and my record as Supervisor is, I trust, satisfactory to my constituents.

at the last session of Congress, I would say that this bill passed the Senate April 9, 1908, page 4749 of the Congressional Record, first session, Sixtieth Congress. There was practically no opposition to the bill. Senators Flint and Perkins voted for the bill. A number of amendments were offered by Democrats, which would have impaired the effect of the bill. These were unanimously voted down by the Republican members of the Senate.

BIG REPUBLICAN RALLY

A rousing Republican rally will be held tonight by the Republicans of the Seventh Ward at Twenty-third avenue and East Fourteenth street under the auspices of the Taft-Sherman Republican club of the Seventh Ward. The call for the meeting has been issued by President D. A. Crawford and the members and friends will convene in Castle hall at 8 o'clock.

Aside from the large attendance at the meeting at Twenty-third avenue of the Republicans in favor of the national candidates of the party the local candidates in the district will be present and address the members. There will be several notable Republican speakers present and the old time ban fire campaign music and unalloyed enthusiasm will be evidenced.

Music for the evening will be rendered by the Taft-Sherman club and the residents will be given an opportunity to sign the membership roll of the Taft-Sherman Republican club of the Seventh Ward. Superior Judge Henry A. Melvin County Clerk John P. Cook, Councilman G. E. Aitken Judge William R. Geary Assistant District Attorney W. H. L. Hines and others will speak.

MULLINS A CANDIDATE.

John F. Mullins, councilman of the Third Ward has announced his candidacy for Supervisor of the Fifth District and is to make his race in connection with the fight of John Mott for the Assembly from the Forty-ninth.

ROY C MAKES A SPEECH

The Lincoln Roosevelt Republicans of the Fourth and Fifth precincts of the Seventh Ward held a rally at East Thirtieth street and Thirtieth avenue last night for the purpose of discussing the political situation.

SAN LEANDRO DELEGATES.

SAN LEANDRO, July 31.—Delegates to the Republican county convention to be voted for at the August 11 primaries will be named this week by the Lincoln Roosevelt Republican League. D. W. Tinsman, W. H. Gorman and Leon Denery have been appointed as a nominating committee to submit names to the league.

LEHNHARDT WANTS THE PUBLIC TO ORDER EARLY

OVERWHELMING POPULARITY OF SUNDAY DESSERTS NECESSITATES REQUEST FOR MORE TIME TO GET OUT ORDERS.

Lehnhardt, the candy man is in a quandary—the success of his Sunday desserts is so great that the demand has become a serious problem. Hundreds of housewives order these desserts Sunday after Sunday, having given up all idea of troubling themselves about what to make leaving it entirely with Lehnhardt. These people know Friday night that they will want the "Special" and still 95 percent of them wait until Saturday afternoon, or even until Sunday before notifying Mr. Lehnhardt by telephone.

If just about half of the folks would only telephone to me Friday night instead of waiting until the last minute I'd greatly appreciate it," said Mr. Lehnhardt to the TRIBUNE representative this morning. "You see, we have to plan our routes for our wagons and arrange for extra wagons, etc., and you can't do all that at the last minute. Then another difficulty is in getting the telephone Saturday. This is a very busy day with us anyhow, and our phone rings all day long. If folks would only order these special Friday night between 6 and 10 o'clock I'd silently bless and publicly thank them all for the favor."

Mr. Lehnhardt is deserving of consideration in this matter as he is honestly trying with all his might to give

LEAGUE MEETING

The Lincoln Roosevelt League held a meeting in Van der Null hall at North Oakland last night and endorsed the candidacy of John W. Stetson for senator. Stetson was present and made a speech. He pledged himself for the first primary. James G. Sullivan called the meeting to order and presented F. A. Anderson as chairman. Among the speakers were F. Peterson, J. J. Cummings, A. J. Pillsbury, City Engineer Frederick C. Turner, W. P. Hamilton and Judge Stetson. The meeting was arranged by a committee composed of P. A. Anderson, Frank Columbus, Daniel McCutcheon and Patrick McDonnell.

MOTHERS IN FAVOR OF TAFT

Republican Candidate's Name Being Used By Proud Mothers In Christening Their Youngest.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 31.—Judge Taft today was entirely free from politics so far as conferences were concerned. A game of golf in the morning and a drive with General Henry C. Corbin in the afternoon were the plans for the day.

Arrangements are being made for printing a second and larger edition of the notification speech which also is to be printed by the national committee. Letters of congratulation to the speech are beginning to reach Hot Springs.

The name "Win" Howard Taft already is becoming a favorite with mothers as indicated by the mail today. A thriving Hoosier youngster born just as the notification speech was being delivered will have the three names of the candidate, according to advices received here today.

HAS UNBOUNDED FAITH IN OAKLAND'S FUTURE

PERCY F. BROWN.

Perry F. Brown Working Upon Plans for the City's Betterment

Oakland's growth, the improvement of miles upon miles of her streets, her water front, sewers and other public utilities, and the outlining of plans for the further improvement along such lines in the near future has placed this city on a par with any of the municipal localities on the great Pacific seaboard. There is a great future in store for Oakland and her citizens and officials are taking advantage of the opportunities offered.

Such is the opinion of Percy F. Brown, a civil engineer attached to the office of City Engineer Turner, whose ability and conscientious attention to duty has assisted largely in making possible the conditions which make Oakland the great city of which he speaks.

HAS TAKEN AN ACTIVE PART

Perry F. Brown is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, having specialized in municipal engineering and finished his course in that institution in 1897. Since that time he has taken an active part in some of the most important engineering problems of the day and now stands recognized as one of the foremost men in his profession on this coast.

Immediately after graduation Engineer Brown moved to Chicago where he practiced civil engineering for a number of years. Later he was chosen as City Engineer of Juncosville, Wisconsin. When his term expired he came westward, arriving in California in time to take charge of the construction of the Bay River dam for the Standard Electric Company. Upon coming to Oakland he was elected a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

IN CHARGE OF THE NEW TWEES

For the past few months Engineer Brown has given all of his attention to the construction of sewers in Oakland which are authorized under the bond issue. To the plans for the auxiliary salt water line plant and to water front improvement. He drew the water front plans which are now before the City Council for adoption, they having been accepted by the Council committee on wharves and water front.

Engineer Brown, who but recently returned from a two-months trip through the East and South, where numerous engineering works were visited, is now giving all his time to work looking toward a better and more beautiful city. He is exerting his efforts toward the immediate construction of the rip-rap wall in the estuary between the Eighth street bridge and the Twelfth street dam preparatory to the dredging of Lake Merritt and the filling in of the marsh lands there for park purposes, this being considered by him one of the most important projects now under way. As soon as the rip-rap wall is constructed from rock to be shipped in from the city's quarry on McAdams street east of Broadway, he will proceed to the dredging of the lake and the pumping of mud onto the marsh lands which is to be topped with suitable soil.

HAS BEEN GIVEN OFFICIAL SUPPORT

In the opinion of Engineer Brown, the work when completed will result in the finest section of Oakland, and it is his opinion that his opinion in view he will leave nothing undone toward accomplishing this end. He is heartily supported in his work by the city administration and is daily in consultation with City Engineer Turner, whose reputation for efficiency and honesty of purpose is well known to the citizens of this city.

COMPROMISE IS EFFECTED BETWEEN RAILROAD KINGS

Gould and Harriman Factions Settle Their Difficulty Amicably

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—No longer drawn out and bitter but we are the Harriman and Gould factions have been terminated and amicably settled. The Gould faction is concerned on time that permits the Western Pacific to enter Los Angeles or Harriman's track, while Harriman is to be given trucking privileges over the Alameda Pacific, the cost in terms of dollars, line to the Pacific coast. This realizes Harriman's dream of an ocean to ocean railway.

TERMS OF COMPACT

By the terms of this compact the Gould faction will be put over the Harriman faction, the line of the Southern Pacific will be switched over the railroad following the line of the Los Angeles and Pacific to Mojave and from there over the Southern Pacific into the Arcade Station Los Angeles.

CUT OFF SAVES 200 MILES

The new cut off will lessen the distance between Los Angeles and Chicago by 250 miles, almost a day's journey. This cut off will be completed in all probability before the middle of the Gould road reaches San Francisco when it is estimated to be about two weeks hence the Gould road will therefore reach the water through the gateway at Los Angeles before the railroad builders of this road sight the waters of the Pacific at the Golden Gate.

The connecting link between Mojave and the main line of the Southern Pacific and Keeler, the present terminus of the Nevada and California, a substandard line of the Southern Pacific, has been completed for a distance of forty-one miles to Jackson Canyon. This branch is to be abandoned for its length of 120 miles as soon as the road is completed. The steel used while construction is in progress is about 92,000 pounds. This cut off when completed is expected to bring greatly into the business of the Salt Lake and San Pedro road.

The immediate effect of the compromise between Gould and Harriman is that the Gould faction will be put over the Harriman faction, the line of the Southern Pacific will be switched over the railroad following the line of the Los Angeles and Pacific to Mojave and from there over the Southern Pacific into the Arcade Station Los Angeles.

RAILROAD DEMURS IN GOVERNMENT CASE

BOSTON, July 31.—A demurrer was filed by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad as defendant in the action brought against it by the United States government in the United States District Court here today. SOLDIERS IN RIOT WITH NEGROES

Militiaman Is Hit in Head With Brick by Negro and Exciting Fight Is the Result.

REHOBOTH, Del., July 31.—State militiamen encamped near here and a crowd of negroes of the vicinity engaged in a riot last night in which one man sustained a fractured skull and may not survive and more than a score of others were injured. Trouble began when some members of Company H, First Delaware regiment of Newcastle were standing around a merry-go-round. There were some words between negro by standers and one of the negroes hurled a brick which struck a private on the head fracturing his skull.

NEGROES ARE FREED.

Instantly the soldiers taking their arms began pursuing every negro they could find. The negroes sought refuge under porches, on top of roofs and even in trees while the enraged soldiers sought high and low for them. Inten on vengeance for their injured comrade.

Governor Lea who is in camp sent a detachment of fifty soldiers to arrest the man who threw the brick and then dispatched officers to pacify the enraged soldiers. Finally quiet was restored but not until a score of persons had been injured.

The man who threw the brick has not yet been captured. Some of the soldiers may be arrested.

WOMAN IS SCORED BY COURT

Judge Melvin Tells Mrs. Winnifred Herbert That She Is Perjuror, But Is Exempt From Law.

The strange case of the guardianship of Ruth Garweh, which has been attracting much attention throughout the county for some weeks past, was brought to the Superior Judge Melvin and Judge Herbert this morning. Mrs. Winnifred Herbert, who now claims to be the legitimate mother of the child, was roundly scored by Judge Melvin, who granted letters of adoption five years ago to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vincent, on the assumption that Ruth was the child of a deceased sister of Mrs. Herbert.

"This woman," said Judge Melvin, "while admittedly guilty of perjury, is safe from prosecution owing to the statute of limitation, which outlaws perjury in three years. Five years ago she took the witness stand and deliberately stated that the child belonged to a dead sister, whose husband had left for the diamond fields of South Africa. Now, desiring to take the child back who comes into court and swears that Ruth is her own child."

WANTS TO PROTECT.
"These people (meaning Mr. and Mrs. Vincent) who have for five years loved and protected the child, have been grossly imposed upon, and both Judge Waste and myself insist upon having ample legal authority before we will revoke the adoption, not because we do not want to believe Mr. and Mrs. Vincent of their charge, but because we want to protect them from any claim being made by the woman or her child against their actions."

Counsel for Mrs. Herbert, formerly Mrs. Garweh, then stated that he had been unable to find a similar case of the revocation of adoption in any of the court records, and stated that he would have to have time to find his quotations and authorities. It was agreed that the matter be concluded as soon as possible, however, as the child was now in the hands of the Vincents and the mother desired that she obtain possession at once.

Judge Melvin then related the lawyer and the mother by stating that the child was in the hands of eminently respectable and good people and would not come to any harm by remaining with them for two weeks.

"Mr. and Mrs. Vincent will have to put up with her misbehavior until we can satisfy ourselves that they will be protected against any contest by Mrs. Herbert or her child over their estates."

The case was finally set for August 14.

BRYAN NOTIFICATION PROGRAM IS ARRANGED

Nebraskan Continues Preparation of His Speech of Acceptance

FAIRVIEW, LINCOLN, Neb., July 31.—The committee attending the notification of William J. Bryan of his nomination for the presidency will be strictly non-partisan. This decision was arrived at after a conference between Mayor Brown, National Committee member Hale, Governor Sheldon and a committee of citizens of Lincoln. It has been concluded that there will be no parade of marching clubs. Invitations will be at once extended to all State and city officers of Nebraska and adjoining States, and to citizens generally to attend the notification.

THE PROGRAM.
The program as accepted is as follows: Sunrise, salute of 46 guns by Colonel Maitland's battery.

10 a. m., band concerts in Capitol grounds and government square.

12 noon, luncheon to the notification committee, Mr. Bryan and Mr. Kern, at the Lincoln Hotel.

1:30 p. m., committee, accompanied by Messrs. Bryan and Kern, and headed by a platoon of police, and the Nebraska State band, escorted in carriages to the Capitol grounds.

2 p. m., formal notification, Capitol grounds.

4 p. m., informal reception by Mr. Bryan in the State Capitol building.

6:30 p. m., dinner by Mr. Bryan to the notification committee at Fairview of the lawn.

Mr. Bryan was up very early this morning continuing the preparation of his speech of acceptance, and it is his intention to have it completed early next week. A visitor asked him today what he thought of the proposition to adopt the tiger as a Democratic emblem instead of the donkey.

"I want first to see the mite that is coming to see from Minnesota," said Mr. Bryan laughingly, "before I discuss any trade."

DEMOLITION OF SCHOOL BUILDING MAY BE ORDERED

Grand Jury Instructs Board of Education to Examine Foundations

As a result of the startling testimony of Architect H. H. Myers, given before the Alameda county grand jury yesterday afternoon, the Board of Education has been directed to employ a commission of disinterested architects, contractors and engineers to investigate the construction of all of the Oakland school buildings and report upon their fitness for occupancy before the commencement of the autumn term of school.

Myers' testimony related almost entirely to the exposure of faulty construction in the new Lincoln school building, but he also gave some facts relative to other school buildings which decided the grand jury to have every one investigated.

The appointment of an architect to examine the construction of the Lincoln school building came as a result of a popular demand, when the foundations at the north end of the structure were found to be faulty.

When this was changed to a class A reinforced concrete building the foundations were not strengthened, except by steel plates riveted on top of them, wherever vertical steel beams were to be placed.

"According to the opinions of engineers with whom I have talked, these plates are a danger to the beams, and have come from the rest of the foundation and doubt reinforced. Then they would have been able to sink a fraction of an inch as the weight increased without materially affecting the strength of the building itself."

DEFECTIVE FOUNDATION.
Investigation by the board disclosed several more serious cracks in the foundation, and Myers was called in to determine who was at fault. Sutton & Weeks, the architects who drew and plans and specifications for the structure, were also called before the grand jury, as was H. W. Bretz, their chief engineer.

"The faults," said Superintendent of Schools McElmendorf, "seem to lie in the fact that the foundations were originally built to carry a class B structure. When this was changed to a class A reinforced concrete building the foundations were not strengthened, except by steel plates riveted on top of them, wherever vertical steel beams were to be placed."

IS REFUSED HELP BY MOTHER

Ida May Stirling Must Stand Second Examination As To Her Sanity—Is Re-Arrested.

Ida May Stirling, the young Berkeley woman who was yesterday permitted to leave the city of attendants of the Receiving Hospital on the condition that she would accompany Mrs. L. C. Atkins to a private sanatorium at Belmont, was this morning returned back to the hospital by Superior Judge Waste and will be re-examined tomorrow morning by Drs. J. C. Kelsey and J. J. Benton.

Yesterday afternoon, only a few hours after the release of the young woman, Judge Waste was surprised by her sudden appearance at the door of his chambers in the court house. She was accompanied by her friend, Mrs. Atkins, who stated to the judge that Miss Stirling had made up her mind that she would not go to Belmont unless she was given a private nurse and $40 with which to pay her expenses to the institution.

MESSAGE FROM LOVER.
The young woman declared that she was momentarily expecting word from her lover, George Foster, who was in Los Angeles, and that she would not go to the sanatorium until the message had been received. However, Judge Waste assured her that Foster could reach her as quickly at Belmont as he could at Berkeley, and finally secured her consent to leave for the latter point.

Later in the evening Mrs. Atkins communicated with Judge Waste stating that Miss Stirling had again refused to start on her journey and was acting so badly that she had been compelled to call a physician to calm her. She then requested the jurist to telephone to Mrs. Anna S. Breed, mother of the unfortunate young woman, and ask her if she would not send the money necessary to employ a nurse.

MOTHER REFUSES.
Mrs. Breed, however, refused to have anything more to do with her daughter's fate, and declared that she would neither send any money or even delay the expenses of Mrs. Atkins to accompany Miss Stirling to Belmont. She said she had paid Dr. Frank Simpson, the sum of $2,400, which was all she felt like expending at this time. (Upon receipt of this information Judge Waste decided that the matter was one which would not admit of further delay, and early morning remanded the young woman to the care of Sheriff Burnet.)

SAY HUGHES WILL BE NAMED

Claim Set Forth That Republican National Chairman Is In Favor of Renominating Incumbent.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican National Committee, today met the New York State leaders and discussed with them the situation as it relates to the national campaign. During the early part of the day he met Herbert Parsons, chairman of the New York County Committee, and Timothy L. Woodruff, chairman of the State Committee. These State leaders sought the conference in order to present to Hitchcock their personal views of the co-operation they expect between national officials and the State managers.

While Hitchcock declined to define his wishes concerning the question of renominating Governor Hughes, his visitors gained the impression that he expects the State convention to name the present Governor as candidate for another term.

When Hitchcock was in the West he found a distinct sentiment for Governor Hughes and that his nomination would strengthen the present ticket in other sections of the country.

Frank R. Kellogg of Minnesota, who has been retained to assist in the prosecution of the Standard Oil Company case, called on Hitchcock. Kellogg is on route to St. Paul after a conference with Attorney General Bonaparte at Lenox, Mass.

Burglars Ride Away in an Auto After Fight With Watchman on Estate of Millionaire Converse.

GREENWICH, Conn., July 31.—Bomb throwers last night attempted to wreck the banking house of Salvatore de Aria at New York. They did not succeed, but managed to blow up the big stone steps leading to the bank. The explosion also blew out the plate glass windows of the second and third floors of the building.

There was a panic among the five clerks in the bank two of whom were women. The explosion was heard at the Second and Third stations, three blocks away, and the reserves ran out.

TWO THREW BOMBS. They learned that two men had been seen to throw something with a light on the end of it just before the explosion occurred. Citizens who saw it believed it was a bomb, and the police are satisfied it was a bomb with a burning fuse.

Artie, the banker, and his brother-in-law, Surchi, who lives in the adjoining house, has been recently receiving threatening black hand letters and have called the attention of the police to it. It is believed that the attempt to wreck the bank is the outcome of their refusal to meet the demands of the Black Hand gang.

HOUSEHOLD AROUSED. The barking aroused the household and when lights began to flash in the windows the robbers, observing their predicament, fled toward the street. The watchman opened fire with his revolver and the being desperadoes sent back shot for shot.

WOOLSEY OUT FOR SUPERVISOR

Well-Known Berkeley Real Estate Man Enters the Mitchell Fight.

BERKELEY, July 31.—Walter P. Woolsey, a real estate and insurance man, has announced his candidacy for Supervisor from the Fifth district, as a successor to John Mitchell. Woolsey lives at the corner of Woolsey, Deakin and Sixty-sixth streets, in Oakland, but does business in Berkeley. His home is in the Fifty-second Assembly district.

He was a member of the firm of Little & Woolsey, and has been doing business in Berkeley and Oakland for the past twelve years. He is the president of the Union Club of Berkeley, and has been identified with many local enterprises. Woolsey says he is not the candidate of any faction, but intends entering the race, which he believes is at present a free-for-all.

Woolsey is the second man from Berkeley to seek Mitchell's place. Mitchell is a candidate himself, but this did not deter Town Trustee William J. Schmidt from declaring himself in the field some days ago.

ENGLISHMEN WIN OLYMPIC REGATTA

Belgian Crew Goes Down to Defeat Before Oarsmen of Leander Eight

HENLEY, July 31.—The International Olympic regatta came to an end today with a sweeping victory for the United Kingdom oarsmen, who have defeated all the continental powers who participated in the races.

The great event of the meeting was the championship competition, in which, after winning several heats, the Belgian crew went down to defeat in the final heat before the Leander crew. The Leanders won by two lengths and a half over a course one mile and a half long, in seven minutes and fifty-two seconds, with comparative ease. The outcome of the contest was a great surprise. It was a battle of styles, the orthodox long stroke, well driven home, of the British oarsmen, against the short and fast stroke which any swing, which twice has carried the Belgians to victory in the grand challenge.

ENGLISHMEN CONVINCED. Today's victory leaves all Englishmen convinced that the old style of rowing is better.

The Leander crew led all the way. They were a length and a half in front at the half way and continued gradually to widen the gap. A magnificent spurt of the Belgians towards the finish resulted only in a momentary gain of a few feet. The home crew pulled away again and finished easy victors.

SEEK WORK FOR IDLE WOMEN

August 15th Next Fixed as Prosperity Day in New York; 75,000 of Fair Sex Not Employed.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Thirteen women as a committee of the Women's League of the State of New York, began a crusade yesterday which they hope will give employment to 75,000 unemployed women by August 15. The leaguers through an appeal sent to business men throughout the State, ask that as many of the army of unemployed as possible be taken back by Prosperity Day, August 15.

More than a dozen firms have agreed to give employment to women on that date. According to the statement issued by the president, Mrs. Belle Revere, New York State has 75,000 women who must earn their daily bread. After a careful canvass, Lillie Klugensmith, commander, chairman of the committee on prosperity, estimates the number of unemployed working women in New York State at 75,000.

INSURANCE COMPANY CITED TO APPEAR

Insurance Commissioner E. M. Wolf issued a citation yesterday to the Preferred Mutual Life Company of California, a mutual assessment company, returnable at 2 o'clock August 10, to show cause why the authority of the company to transact business in this State shall not be revoked. Commissioner Wolf asked that he had made an examination of the affairs of the company and found that its transactions were not in accordance with the law of California. The company formerly had its headquarters in Los Angeles, where it conducted business as the Los Angeles Life Association. Later its headquarters were moved to Oakland and the business resumed under the present title.

The Death of Ex-Governor Budd.

The death of former Governor James H. Budd removes a unique personality from the public life of California. A man of erratic but generous impulses, his career in politics was spectacular and at the bar unusually successful. He was one of the most brilliant rising lawyers in the State, his methods savoring of the erratic dash which made him so formidable and successful as a politician. He was a rare stump orator. His wit was nimble, his speech forceful and epigrammatic, and his manner of delivery captivating for its raillery and quick passages from humor to earnestness. While his speeches were free from malignity and vituperation they were pithy and pungent, and in a mocking, good-natured way he dealt telling blows and inflicted wounds which rankled and hurt long after Budd had ceased to remember them. He provoked bitter enemies, but cherished no malice himself.

Budd led his party to victory in two campaigns memorable in the political annals of California. Each time he led a forlorn hope in the face of tremendous odds against able veterans confident of victory and backed by apparently invincible forces. In the spectacular buckboard canvass of 1882 he defeated Horace F. Page, a resourceful and popular Republican, in a strongly Republican district, winning by nearly a thousand plurality with a majority of 5000 against him. And while he achieved notable results during his single term in Congress, the career of a Congressman had no attraction for him and he declined a renomination when re-election seemed certain.

When he took the nomination for governor in 1894 the Democracy was disheartened and discordant all over the country. The Republicans were strong, confident and disciplined in this State, and had at their head an able leader of long experience in public life. Budd was handicapped additionally by the candidacy of a Populist nominee for governor who was originally a Democrat and who was popular with the rural Democracy. Yet the unexpected happened, and Budd was elected over Morris M. Estee, although even his most ardent supporters regarded his chances as hopeless till the closing days of the campaign revealed a strong popular drift to him.

In the governor's chair Budd exhibited the same unconventional traits and the same erratic methods that made him so interesting a figure at the bar and on the stump. His love of banter and his cheerful way of treating as humorous the most serious public questions perplexed and annoyed many of his supporters, who could not understand the erratic spirit of playfulness that was an ingrained part of the man's nature. Yet Budd was an effective executive. It is true he made enemies of some of his friends by "joshing" them, and foes of others because he refused to accede to demands he regarded as unreasonable or inimical to the public welfare; but he enforced economy in the administration of the State's affairs, instituted salutary reforms in a number of State institutions, and kept political partisanship out of the prisons and reformatories. He entered office with the treasury empty and a big deficit staring him in the face, and he retired from the governor's chair with the treasury full and all debts paid.

Whatever his faults may have been in other directions, and he was not free from grave defects of character, Budd's administration as governor earned a high place and entitles its head to credit and honor. It is true his processes were often irregular and his manner of doing things sometimes inexplicable, but in the general equation it is the result achieved that chiefly concerns mankind, and it is by the result that Budd must be judged. When examined in the light of cold analysis, it must be conceded that Budd gave the State a notable service at a needed time even if he did create an undignified atmosphere of levity in the gubernatorial office. That he strove sincerely to serve the people faithfully cannot be doubted. He fell below the mark he set for himself only when he made concessions against his better judgment to personal friends or party allies. But even his mistakes testified to the warmth of his heart and the generous impulses of his nature. It was characteristic of Budd, however, for his public aims and his loyalty to public trust to be higher than his associations and his standards of personal conduct. This contradiction was a part of his whimsical nature which was a development of the extreme individualist type.

Regarding the New Schoolhouses.

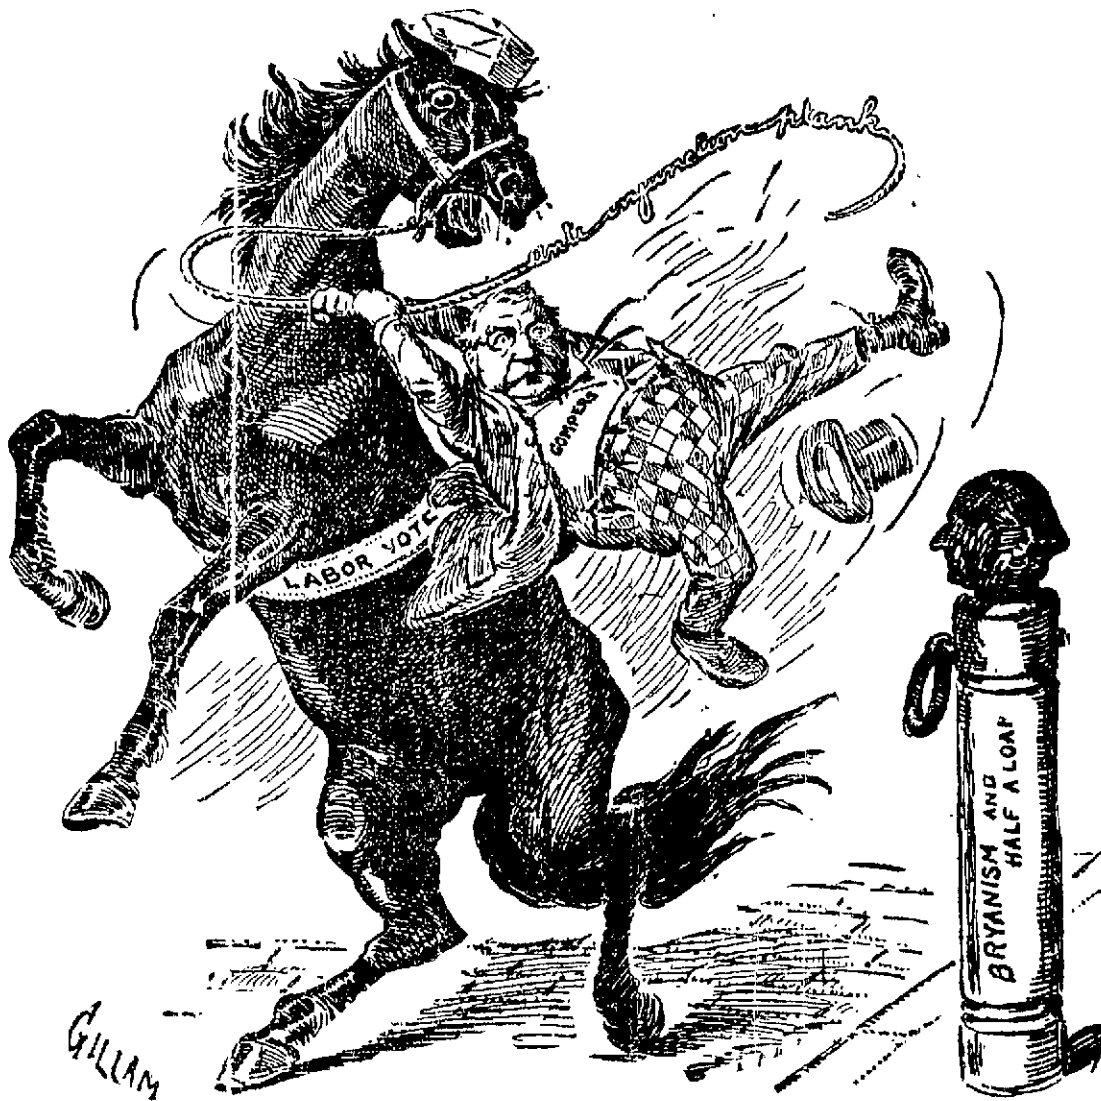

The Grand Jury suggests the employment of a commission of experts to examine the new schoolhouses as the only way of authoritatively determining the truth or falsity of the stories persistently in circulation regarding the safety and proper construction of the new buildings. It is constantly asserted that the plans are defective and that the specifications have not been complied with by the contractors. We are loth to believe these charges to be true, but a thorough examination by competent men will do no harm. It is to be regretted that the Grand Jury did not closely inquire into the causes for the extraordinary delay in completing the new schoolhouses. The manner in which the work has been dragged out approaches a public scandal. Not only has due diligence not been observed, but the dilatoriness displayed has been extraordinary. During all this delay a heavy interest account has been running against the new structures, although the money to build them was in hand before the work started. The student population has been denied adequate accommodations while work on the new buildings went on at a snail's pace. The plea of inability to get labor and material is a hollow and empty pretense. Labor and material in abundance were had for other buildings and construction work. The why and wherefore of the pattering, shilly-shallying and procrastination in completing the school buildings should be made plain and a sharp stick applied to hurry up matters.

So the business of the criminal courts of San Francisco must wait on the pleasure of Francis J. Heney while that worthy goes about the State making political speeches. Having turned its attention to politics, the graft prosecution calls a halt in criminal procedure while Heney devotes himself to campaigning. Bures and his gang, quartered on the public treasury, are doing politics in San Francisco and Heney tells the courts to wait till he gets through political speechmaking.

The depositors of the Market-street Bank can get no sympathy or assistance from District Attorney Langdon. That worthy told a committee of the depositors of the wrecked bank that if they have been plundered by illegal means they must seek redress without applying to him. He is too busy with other concerns. He has no time to bother with thousands of swindled depositors. Are the officials of the Market-street Bank friends of Rudolph Spreckels?

Burning negroes at the stake in the South is not calculated to convince the colored voters that it is wise to vote for Bryan.

HE SAYS HE CAN HITCH IT. CAN HE?

—Gillam in the New York Globe.

Heney Lies About Perkins and Flint

Francis J. Heney's speech at West Berkeley was another evidence that the Lincoln-Roosevelt League has for its main object the defeat of Senator Perkins. Heney has been making speeches under the auspices of the league in various parts of the State, and attacks on Senators Perkins and Flint have been conspicuous features of his diatribes. The league organs are also throwing mud at the Republican Senators from California, broadly intimating that the election of a Democrat would be preferable to the re-election of Perkins.

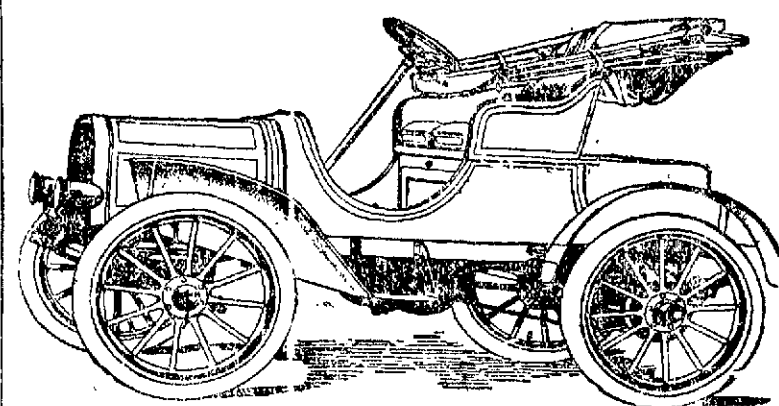

It is characteristic of Heney that he should have based his West Berkeley attack on Senators Perkins and Flint on two barefaced lies. He said Perkins and Flint both voted against the bill prohibiting the granting of railroad passes to any but employees. Both voted in favor of the bill, as the Congressional Record shows.

Heney said the bill was a measure to prohibit Federal judges from accepting railroad passes. This was in essence a lie intended to cast discredit on the Federal judiciary, for the bill was a broad measure for the regulation of interstate commerce, one of the provisions of which prohibited the railroads from issuing passes to anybody save employees. Thus the lie against Senator Perkins and Flint embodied a falsehood directed at the Federal courts.

Heney also accused Perkins and Flint of voting against the employer's liability bill. Here again the Congressional Record convicts him of deliberate lying. Perkins and Flint both voted for the bill, and Heney either knew it or made the injurious accusation without knowledge of the facts. His record as a malignant falsifier justifies the conclusion, however, that he lied with a full knowledge that he was lying.

The voters of West Berkeley are largely workingmen, and Heney doubtless uttered his false accusation in the hope of deceiving them and playing upon their feelings. He was aware that the employer's liability bill touches a tender spot with the workingmen. It is altogether probable, therefore, that he lied with deliberate malice. However, a lie of this kind comes with peculiar grace from Harriman's peon padrone. Unable to deny that he had a contract to supply the Harriman roads in Arizona with peon labor imported from Mexico, Heney tried to make a merit of the rescinding of his degrading contract. With characteristic effrontery he tried to couple up the revocation of his slave labor contract with the decision in the Schmitz case. He says Harriman was afraid of him till the Schmitz decision was rendered. Why was Harriman afraid of his peon padrone?

Because his contract was revoked before the Schmitz decision was rendered, Heney alleges that the railroad president knew the purport of that decision prior to its rendition. Here again is another lie uttered with intent to discredit the California Supreme Court. For all his acrobatic lying this impudent fraud is making an indecent exposure of his moral leprosy.

CRIMINALS RELEASED FROM TURKISH PRISON

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 31.—The release of 200 ordinary criminals from the central prison on orders from the palace is regarded as showing that the mind is not yet free from palace interference and indicates that the reactionaries working on the constitution of the "Black Hand," with a view to provoking disorders and casting the responsibility on the people, to the disengagement of the Constantinople regime. PLANS FOR FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH ACCEPTED; BUILDING TO COMMENCE SOON

Perspective of Webster-street front of proposed new First Christian Church.

The First Christian Church has accepted plans for the new edifice which will be erected on the corner of Grand avenue and Webster street. The new structure will be in the Spanish mission style and is to be completed at a cost of $40,000. The auditorium will seat 1000 people and when the large folding doors, separating the Sunday school rooms and the social room are thrown open, it will convert the upper floor into a large hall with a capacity of 1800. Already $15,000 has been procured towards the building fund, and efforts are being made to increase this. The rapid way in which the extension fund has been growing leads the committee in charge to feel confident that the church will be free from indebtedness within a short time. One half of the $40,000 must be paid when the contract is let, but as there is but $5000 to be secured, no fears are entertained but that by the time the sanctuary is dedicated the money will be forthcoming. The new church will be one of the finest in the city. WELL ARRANGED. Nothing has been overlooked in the arrangements. In the basement large banquet rooms and a kitchen will be located. The pipe organ in use at Hamilton auditorium, the present place of worship, will be altered and installed in the new church. It has not been decided yet whether the walls will be finished with plaster on steel laths, or laths over a wood foundation.

COURSE DINNER AT TWO CENTS A HEAD

425 Vacation School Children Fed With Meal That Breaks Record.

CHICAGO, July 31.—A dinner in courses was served to 425 vacation school pupils yesterday in the basement of the Graham school, Forty-fifth street and Union avenue. The repeat cost exactly two cents a head.

The dinner was served by the Students Aid Association of Chicago to demonstrate a theory that a good meal could be purchased, prepared and served at the cost mentioned.

With John D. Shady, superintendent of the Chicago vacation schools, at the head of the long table, the youngsters sat down to the following menu:

NOVEL MENU SERVED.
Baked beans, boiled potatoes with bread and butter, cereal nectar and harlequin dessert.
The "cereal nectar" is explained, is made of grains and takes the place of coffee. The recipe for the "harlequin dessert" was not divulged, but the compound appeared to be highly satisfactory to the children. The experiment will be repeated at other school buildings where there are vacation classes and it may become a permanent feature of the summer school.

STUDENT DASHED FROM SPEEDING AUTOMOBILE

Machine Crashes Into Trolley Car and Occupants Are Injured.

CHICAGO, July 31.—Carl Burton of Aurora, Illinois, a student at the University of Chicago, was probably fatally injured in a collision between an automobile and a car at Michigan and Madison streets early today. Burton was thrown out of the car and suffered a severe wound in the forehead.

The other occupants of the car were only slightly hurt. They were detained at the central police station.

T. P. Henderson, who was driving the car, has gained local notoriety as the central figure in an automobile "speed war" at Glenview, a suburb. He was cited to appear in court in Glenview today on a charge of speeding.

JUDGE REPAYS LOAN FROM CHILD'S ESTATE

HONOLULU, July 31.—Circuit Judge A. N. Kepoikal, against whom charges have been filed with Governor Frear, has repaid a loan of $1000 which he borrowed from the estate of a minor, giving, it is alleged, an unsecured note. Governor Frear is investigating the charges against Judge Kepoikal.

STILL SHIPPING GOLD TO CANADA

Three Million and a Half Went Over Border Within Last Two Weeks.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The New York agency of the Bank of Montreal sent an additional $750,000 in gold to Canada yesterday, bringing the total sent over the border during the last two weeks up to $2,550,000. A prominent Canadian banker in New York said yesterday that these shipments of gold to Canada at this time were the result of the sharp demand for money over the border, where bumper crops are promised and little business reaction has been felt.

LARGE BALANCES. The Canadian banks, he explained, have had large balances in New York and at the end of the month approach and it became necessary to increase their reserves, the call on New York for cash had put the prices of exchange to such a point that it was cheaper to bring the hard money from here than to sell exchange.

Entertaining a Duke Or Lessons in Royalty

Many people are unnecessarily embarrassed when a duke is visiting them. This is a great mistake. Of course, a duke is a duke; but, then, there is no reason why he shouldn't be treated with a certain amount of respect.

To do this it is not necessary to respect him too much. Treat him with as much respect as you think he will stand, but do not lavish it upon him.

If he leaves his boots in front of his door at night, do not feel that it is incumbent upon you to get up at 5 o'clock to shine them. Wait until 7, any way. He will never know the difference.

Let him be alone with your daughter as much as he likes. If he resents this, tell him he can get even later. This night, under no circumstances, never, no, not a crack, but it is better to meet him in a frank and open-hearted manner.

At night, before the duke goes to bed, sneak into his room and turn on all the steam. Being an Englishman, he must not understand this sudden warmth on your part, but you can explain to him the next morning when he has himself down to the breakfast table, but it's only a foretaste of what he may expect later. Not being able to see a duke, he will probably think that you mean to play all his expenses to him. Really, which will restore him to his good humor.

When you have a duke on hand, do not talk too much about your ancestors, or rub it in about your family. It might make him feel uncomfortable. No duke likes to feel that he is marrying above him.

Naturally you will provide him, while he is with you, with the necessities of life. It is extremely embarrassing when you invite some of your intimate friends in to see your duke to have him sit on the end of your dinner-table with a fringe on his trousers and a false bosom to his shirt. Feed him, therefore, on good nourishing food, and make him as respectable as any duke can ever be made.

MOTOR FOUND HER SOULMATE FOR HER Woman Glad to Leave Husband and Live With Senator's Son

WASHINGTON, July 31.—"I love Will Rayner. Our parting at the boat was one of the most cruel things that I have ever known."

Without a thought for her husband and children, Mrs. William H. Fisher told of the mutual infatuation of herself and the son of Senator Rayner, of Maryland. Rayner has been placed in a retreat by his father. Divorce proceedings against Mrs. Fisher were instituted some time ago by her husband, William H. Fisher. The case is pending.

"It is unfair to me and against the wishes of Mr. Rayner for the impression to prevail that he wants to cast me off," said Mrs. Fisher. "He wants to marry me when he is legally free to do so, and I want to marry him when I can legally do so."

"My going away with Will Rayner was not premeditated on my part. I had known him for a long time and he had repeatedly pleaded with me to go with him. I always refused. I used to go out riding in a motor car with him. One day I went with him to Gettysburg. The machine broke down and we did not reach home until 3 o'clock in the morning. That was the turning point. I was afraid to go to my house at such an unseemly hour, for I did not know what the consequences would be when my husband and Mr. Rayner met. It was then that I, for the first time, heeded the pleading of Mr. Rayner to go away with him."

"I was radically happy with him. He was always kind and affectionate to me and lavished on me everything that he thought my heart could desire. When his father stepped sending him an allowance he became pressed for money and I even had to give my rings so that he could procure funds by pawning them. It was in this stage that Mr. Rayner began drinking heavily and attracted notice in Norfolk by his actions."

William Rayner was found in a farmhouse in Maryland by friends. Mrs. Fisher was with him there. It was reported at that time that Rayner was insane. He is now at his father's home.

Girls Afraid of Their Complexions in Moonlight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The moonbeamed maid and matrons of New York are now going motoring in the moonlight carrying parasols. It is perhaps unnecessary to explain that the parasol is designed to keep the moonbeams off of the complexion as a parasol keeps off the rays of the sun. It is a fluff little thing between the size of an umbrella and a dinner plate. The parasol will not be needed in Kentucky. The home grown Kentucky girl's complexion is a product of the sun and shine and the moonlight combined. The finest specimens of the Kentucky complexion of the feminine gender are discoverable in the rural sections of the State, where "buggy riding" by moonlight has been the chief diversion of society for generations. Of the Kentucky girl, Sir Walter Scott might have written his lines: "Good even, fair moon, good even to thee; I prithee, dear moon, now show to me The form and the features, the speech and degree, Of the man that true lover of mine shall be."

It is by moonlight that the rural Kentucky girl selects her life partner, and so unerringly does she select that the divorce courts are rarely called upon to record an error. The New York girl, who selects her fiancé by Dun and Bradstreet rather than by moonlight, may not be armed by nature against the moonbeams, which are said to work an injurious effect upon her complexion, but the damask-rose complexion of the true daughter of the Bluegrass blooms its brightest when

"The harvest moon on gilded vases, And roofs of villages, on woodland crags, Descended on the curtained window panes Of rooms where children sleep, on country lanes And harvest fields, its mystic splendor rests." A parasol to fend off the moonbeams? It would be as senseless as to shelter the helianthus from the sun or shield the lilac from the dew. A Kentucky girl never needs a parasol. Equipped with a stout haplin as a weapon of defense during the earlier stages of the solution of the problem of natural selection, and entirely careless of the caresses of the moon, she centers her mind upon the more serious business in hand and lets her complexion take care of itself, serene in the confidence that if her pursuit of happiness is successful the rose tints will remain in her cheeks throughout the springtime of life and perhaps until late in its Indian summer.

Fashionables Cut Out Trips to European Resorts

In summing up social statistics for the summer, the Social Register Association has found that a larger proportion of American families have returned from abroad to reside in their own country than in many years past, and a great decrease in the number who have gone to Europe, attributable to the money panic of last fall. Of the 2,203 families whose summer addresses are given, 5768 are on inland places and 283 at the seashore, showing an increase of 25 per cent over last year of those who prefer the country to the sea, and a decrease of 15 per cent of the latter.

Unwomanlike, Mae Murray Tires of Male Attentions and Seeks Relief From Manophobia on the Peaceful Waters of Lake Champlain.

NEWPORT—Miss Mae Murray, who demonstrates folly in its varying aspects in "The Follies of 1908" at the Jardin de Paris, is suffering from a severe attack of man-o-theria—a disease which attacks chorus girls in summer. Manager Ziegfeld has decided that the only remedy for Miss Murray is a three weeks' vacation at Lake Champlain. Accordingly, she started yesterday.

Explaining the symptoms, Miss Murray said yesterday that she was utterly fagged out by the attentions of male admirers since the beginning of her great success on the stage. She wanted special stress laid on "great success." Men about town, she asserted, and New York male characters in general, mostly married, bored her almost to the point of a nervous collapse.

Miss Murray, before launching on an artistic career, shone socially in Portsmouth, Va. She added: "These Northern men are simply pests, and they worry women with their constant attention. But do not get the idea that I am a man-hater. Under ordinary conditions I would be glad to tolerate them."

Telegraphic bulletins of Miss Murray's condition will be posted daily on the call board at the Jardin de Paris.

Woman, Wife and Love Steer Vessel Through Stormy Seas When Master and Husband Lies Crippled Below

TOLEDO, O. While her husband lay in his bunk tossing with pain because of an accident, Mrs. John O. Johnson took command and brought the schooner John Schulte through the river and across Lake St. Clair in the terrible storm of Friday. Not only did the woman take her trick at the wheel but when off watch, instead of resting, she was the patient and faithful nurse for her husband, who had terribly burned his legs Wednesday by coming in contact with the hot pipe of a steam siphon.

Almost frantic with pain, the big skipper would have no other nurse than his wife, and when she walked into the customs office with her papers this afternoon she was worn and weary. After she had filed her papers she walked out to obtain a doctor to attend to her husband, whose injuries had become worse.

The real story of her bravery and sacrifice was only made known when investigation of the accident was made on board the vessel she had handled so well.

SO SAY WE ALL

Why raise this rapping, roaring fuss About the new director's gown? What burks within its luring folds To call such maledictions down?

For surely all may plainly see, When fulls sensation's storm, 'Twas never a question of modesty But merely a matter of form!

SUFFICIT

If you could hold me in your arms again, And let me feel the straining strength of them—

The strength and force delict which was half pain

(The touch of joy's feet against me which brushes earth so solemn); if my eyes

Could read once more within the depth of yours

The swift desire which lingers like Than plauding voice; could feel the My senses from the warm lips And mine quick-pulsing blood; if I could hear—

Your heart-beats like hot, cruel whips Against my own—then, Sweet, before another year

Could sever us, or mocking fate forbid That you should clasp me so (O dear Deep in your arms might I be hid And sink to sleep . . . or ask to wake again!

Would Directoire Skirt Over Cadet Trousers Render Women Eligible as Letter Carriers?

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Acting Postmaster-General Grandfield has decided that a woman cannot be a mail carrier without making it decidedly embarrassing for her and causing her to lose her womanly modesty and incidentally her skirts.

At Idaho Falls, Idaho, an examination was recently held to obtain a carrier for the installation of city free-delivery system of letters and the civil service commission certifies the name of a young woman to the department. The question arose as to whether a woman was eligible for appointment.

There did not appear to be any legal reason to interfere and the young woman in question was on the point of receiving the job when there was discovered a "fatigue in large bold type which stated that carriers were to wear trousers."

The description of the postal service uniform had been fixed in detail by a former postmaster general as follows: Trousers—Of same material and col-

RULES NEED MODIFYING

To "love your neighbor as yourself" Should be your aim in life. But if you'd keep your peace and pet You must not love his wife.

To "be as you would be done by" Is still a noble plan. But if you try it, ere you die, You'll be an "also ran."

To "turn the other cheek for slaps" May be a holy scheme; But won't a few delighted chaps Just make your face a dream?

If you forgive brother all His trespasses, I fear He'll soon remove your garden wall And rend his title clear.

In fact, to put each pretty text In practice, I'm afraid Some sinner will be yelling "Next!" When in the grave you're laid.

FORSAKES MUSICAL CAREER FOR A POOR BUTCHER BOY

NEWARK, N. J.—Miss Mabel

18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ecker, of 16 Highland avenue, Newark, was destined to become a great pianist, her instructors believed. But she founded them by announcing that she had been married to a butcher boy, Wallace Gruch, at that moment perched on his wagon making deliveries.

"I have forsaken my music for a husband," she said. "At least, while it was my first love, but I displaced it and the real love is my whole life."

The marriage was unopposed by the bride's parents, who accepted the fact as a joke, but when the wedding day came until the bridegroom should be a support to his bride. But on Monday she rushed breathless to her home and was married that night, as his bride, Mrs. William McElmish, of Philadelphia, was going back to her home the next day. Mabel consented and the Rev. Leonard Mytton of the Park Presbyterian Chapel, where the bride plays the organ, officiated.

"I am very, very happy," the bride said. "I believe I am the happiest girl in the whole world. Wallace's home is right here for the present."

"How did I meet him? Well, mother said one day when I was so wrapped up in my music that I could see nothing else. I would give half my fortune if you could meet a young man you would fancy." Not long afterward I went to the church and there I saw Wallace. Then what mother had said came to my mind. In a moment, I ran back to the house and told her to come with me; that I would point out the boy she wanted me to meet. I showed her Wallace, and the pastor, Mr. Mytton, introduced us."

WOMEN Are Greatly Interested In Civic Affairs. Run Sprinkler IN ONE TOWN

In many places intelligence and courage of women are withholding them from public work for various reasons. Some say, "My church duties absorb my time," and others, "My home duties require every hour." Of course, there are little children who mother ought not to be expected to have any share in public work.

But, then, there are many women who have plenty of time and leisure. In the old days, in sinful and evil times, the movement was toward the club, with its seclusion, peace and serenity. Then it was to get away from trouble, but in our modern life we have learned that we must take the spirit of the clubber out into the world and if we like severity, pleasure and beautiful things—parks, trees and gardens—we must take them with us.

Every playground, every outdoor movement in a town, keeps down the weeds and the dirt, the strength which results from over-crowding. Those persons who have commodious homes, with beautiful grounds, surrounding do not need recreation away from home, but those men, women and children who are shut in need a place for recreation where they may breathe the pure air, even in the summer and get a glimpse of the blue sky overhead. So, pumps every $10 expended for a park will save $100 which would be required later on in the fight against tuberculosis.

Many women think that civic keeps them too much away from the home. It has been the curious experience in Pennsylvania, that civic work has taken as much back into the home. Civic workers began with little efforts to clean the streets. For example, in Harrisburg one man was engaged to clean and keep about one block every day and the success of this small effort led to the adoption of the system by the municipality. Attention of the men's association was directed to the subject of improvement work, and the men now see that it is done properly.

Another town, Gettysburg, has a street sprinkler run by the women. Citizens pay for services given and out of the proceeds, $25 was given recently to a society of architects for the best plan for improving the middle of the town.

In Castle 125 street signs were purchased and posted from the money literally coined out of the dust of the streets. In almost every county can be found a concrete instance of improvement work that has been done as a direct result of women's efforts.

ILL LUCK WINS HIM A BRIDE

CHICAGO—This is the romance of a traxled and of how cupid manipulated a wet night and a broken down machine to procure a chauffeur a bride and incidentally a farm.

Marshall Bond, the chauffeur, took a fare to Lockport, and started on his return journey.

On the outskirts of Lockport he located the Cummings farm and it was there that cupid got busy. He smashed the sparking plug, punctured a tire, and brought the taxicab to a stop in a sea of mud. Whereupon Bond sought assistance at the Cummings farmhouse.

Farmer Cummings has a daughter, Margaret. She took pity on the unhappy chauffeur and set herself to comfort him, the process proving successful to such an extent that when the rescue party arrived from Chicago Bond had become smitten with her charms.

It took just a week for them to make up their minds. Then Bond appeared in Lockport with a marriage license and whisked his sweetheart away in a taxicab to make his bride. They have established their home at 2605 Ellis avenue.

Leader of 400 A CANDIDATE

NEW YORK—Mrs. Clarence H. Mink has informed a friend that she is to be a candidate for reelection to the board of education of the High School, having nearly finished her term of three years and having a good record.

It was known that if there was any show of a contest she would not run again—there is no opposition whatever and Jo in F. Remsen, who was her running mate three years ago, will also be in the field, and the election of both seems certain. They have worked faithfully for the school.

TRAIN HITS AUTO; TWO KILLED

Machine Hurlled Into Air and Occupants Horribly Mangled;
Head of One Severed
by Wheels.

PHILADELPHIA, July 31.—Driving their big touring car across the Reading railway tracks at Hunting Park avenue in the northern section of the district in front of an in-bound express train late last night, Charles Humphreys, chief clerk in the Bureau of Police, and Harry B. Bromley, a prominent dealer in upholsterers' materials, were run down and killed.

Portions of their mangled bodies were scattered along the tracks for one hundred yards, and except for the contents of their pockets identification would have been almost impossible. The machine, which was owned by Bromley, is a wreck.

TOSSES AUTO INTO AIR.
Eye witnesses say the car crashed through the safety gates, which were down, just as the train reached the crossing. The automobile was struck squarely in the middle and tossed in the air. Humphreys was thrown from the track and Bromley was thrown ahead of the train only to be run over again.

The wheels crossed his neck, severing his head from the body and scattering it a few feet. Humphreys, when picked up, was dead. There was a large hole in his head and one leg was cut off.

Humphreys was one of the most popular attaches of the Department of Public Safety, in which he has held a place under many administrations.

WANT TO RETAIN DRAKE FOUNTAIN

Knights of Columbus Declare Removal of Monument Was a Political Move.

CHICAGO, July 31.—The Knights of Columbus, members of thirty councils, will meet tonight to protest against the removal of the Drake Fountain, the only statue of the discoverer of America now in the city, from the downtown business district to South Chicago.

While the drinking fountain that was given to the city just before the World's Fair and stood in the shadow of the city hall, has already been played at Ninety-second and Commercial avenue, members of the organization declare that it must be returned to the downtown district. Its removal is declared to have been a political move.

PETITION FOR CHANGE.
It is planned to petition Mayor Rue and other members of the city administration, asking that the fountain be returned and placed on the lake front. The Knights of Columbus also is to be asked to interest itself in the protest.

The Knights of Columbus, which has more than 100,000 members in Chicago, is said to be of the opinion that the removal of Drake statue and fountain, the only "Columbus" left in town, should be considered as a personal affront to the society.

ATTACKS POLICE ON BARBARY COAST

Powerful Laborer Struggles With Bluecoat in Effort to Escape.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—When Captain of Police Duke selected Policeman Clark from the batch of new recruits received by the department on July 1, he spotted him as an A1 man for the Pacific street beat through the Barbary coast, which is one of the most dangerous in the city.

Nightly fights are the regular order of things, but last night was the first opportunity given the new officer to show what he was made of.

Thomas Lennox, a laborer, and a big, powerful man, had been doing the rounds of the various saloons and was in an ugly frame of mind when he encountered Clark in the middle of the block between Kearny and Montgomery streets. The officer had already received complaint of the man's action and was out on a search of him.

READY FOR HIM.
Before he could place him under arrest the man was on him. The two clinched and it was a case of skill against brute force. Over and over the two rolled on the pavement, but Clark finally succeeded in placing the handcuffs on his prisoner's wrist, without being forced to use his club. It was another matter, however, to get him to the patrol box, and it was not until Policeman Jack Manion came up that they were able to walk their prisoner along the street.

Lennox was booked for battery and disturbing the peace.

HOTEL KEEPER DIES FROM HURTS RECEIVED IN FALL

Thrown From Horse and Fatally Injured.

(Special to the Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Joseph Meyers, a prominent hotel keeper of Hopland, Cal., died at Mt. Zion hospital at the result of injuries sustained in a fall from his horse on July 17.

While out riding, the animal became frightened by a passing train and ran along the road at a rapid pace. Just as Meyers thought he had him under control, the beast slipped and fell, taking the hotel keeper to the ground with him and injuring him internally.

He was brought to this city and had been under the care of Dr. Alfred Newman. He was 35 years old and one of the best known citizens of Hopland.

JOE GANS MAKING GALLANT FIGHT TO REGAIN LOST STAMINA AND GET BACK IN GOOD FORM

NEGRO PUGILIST TAKING "BACK TO NATURE" CURE Sleeping in the Open Air and Using Other Heroic Measures to Regain Vitality That Is Impaired.

BY T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

How about the condition of Joe Gans? Is he all right? Can he expect to win again? Is he not broken of spirit and the flesh?

These are the questions that have been agitating sportsmen ever since the defeat of the famous Baltimore pugilist at the hands of Battling Nelson last Independence Day.

For the purpose of seeing Gans and learning what he is doing the writer was assigned to have a look at him and talk with the negro pugilist.

Before making the trip to Middletown where Gans is taking the rest cure and making the most inviolable struggle in the history of the ring to combat the ravages of time and regain as much of his stamina as was once his the writer heard on all sides the remark that Gans was through that he was down and out ready for the human derelict heap that some or later claims all fighters.

GANS REALIZES HIS CONDITION.

That Gans himself realizes in no small measure that he is not the berserker glove he once was is shown in the fact that he has selected such a hermitage as Middletown away from the burning cruel white lights of sportdom.

When the writer arrived at Middletown he met Gans. Joe is stopping at a small hotel. The place is still the ring of that affable note in the Gans voice that has always characterized him but in sad truth it is only the echo of the once cheery voice.

In looks Gans has changed little. He still has the melancholy look. He does not take any too much interest in what is happening in the world. He seems enfeebled. Joe explains this in that lack of enthusiasm by declaring that he is in Middletown to take a rest and recuperate.

The negro is still thinking of Nelson. The fighter is ever topmost in the mind of Gans.

Some how or other the reason or at least the full reason for his defeat at the hands of Nelson does not seem to get clearly through the mind of Gans.

JOE'S STATEMENT

I really can't understand how it happened, declared Joe. Very likely I was not in the best of condition. In fact I know that I was not right when I met Nelson last time. For four weeks of the fight I could do what I wanted with him and had I been able to keep up that pace for six ten rounds as I did for the first four I would surely have knocked Nelson out. But after the fourth round something seemed to snap in me. I was limp and listless, and not myself.

Let me tell you I was lucky. I was not up against Paddy McFarland or a fighter like him with his punch. McFarland would probably have beaten me in four rounds. I was with him because he has a punch and Nelson has not.

Nature and not Nelson beat me. I felt from exhaustion.

I think I did not train in the right way for the last fight. Before that fight I thought that all I would have to do was to walk right into the ring and walk right out again the victor. There was where I was fooled. Let me tell you I fooled not only the fight fans and my trainers but that last fight I fooled myself. I worked very little for that fight. Just enough to exhibit myself for the benefit of the fans and newspaper men who visited me.

TALKS OF TRIBUNE.

I used to read some articles in THE TRIBUNE about Nelson having a chance with me. I laughed at them at the time. But I'll have to give THE TRIBUNE credit for being the only paper who picked Nelson to beat me. I wish I had paid sufficient attention to those articles and trained as I should have done. I will train this time.

TALKS OF NELSON.

Gans then began to chat freely of Nelson. Strangely enough he thinks that he will surely beat the Dane September 1, next.

It will be a different Gans that will fight Nelson next time. I propose to fight him a different way this time. You know I did not box any the last time. But I'm going to box this time, and will get some rough fellows to mut and beat me around. I think I will be much stronger when I enter the ring September 9, that I was when I fought Nelson July 4, last.

HAS NOT GAINED WEIGHT

Joe says that he is gaining in weight. To be frank with the public and the readers of this paper, the writer thinks quite differently. Gans if anything is sparer than he was before he started to train for the last fight with Nelson. But in the absence of scale testimony Joe's word is entitled to some credence.

One thing sure Gans is eating his meals with more relish and comfort than he did while he was training for Nelson last time.

BACK TO NATURE.

The black man is sleeping out of doors. He has arranged with the hotel management where he is stopping for a temporary structure. A light canvas on the porch of the hotel and he sleeps in this structure.

Joe is getting back to nature and he thinks she will nurse him into ruggedness. Nature has no light task to accomplish.

Those who live in the hotel declare that Gans sleeps well. He retired Wednesday night before 9 o'clock and was up shortly after the sun. The outdoor life and close-to-nature stunt should have a beneficial effect on Gans. It shows more in his appetite than it does in any addition of flesh that it is giving him.

GONE BACK PHYSICALLY

To say that Gans is the physical specimen that he was six or seven, or even two years ago would be sheer nonsense and an injustice to the public. Also, the rumors that he is down and out are worthy of no serious consideration. He is healthy enough for the ordinary pursuits of life, but whether his stamina is great enough to cope successfully with Nelson is a question which time will best answer. Gans does not look robust. He has not the rugged air about him that one would expect to find in a man who is shortly to engage the toughest man in the ring in battle for the highest honors of the lightweight pugilistic division.

TO TRAIN AT CROLL'S

He will remain at Middletown until about ten days before the fight when he will move to Alameda and take up the real athletic training.

Gans is working for strength and stamina. He will heed as much of this as it is possible for him to get out of the ozone and bracing climate of Lake county.

That Gans has improved wonderfully since he went to Middletown is the opinion of everyone who lives in that hill clad town. And he expects to improve more. He will have to if he expects to beat Nelson for, right now, he is far from being as rugged or as full of vitality as the Dane.

SORE AT BATTLER.

Gans feels very keenly the humiliation of his defeat at the hands of Nelson. He says himself that he wouldn't mind it if any other boy in the ring beat him. But the defeat at the hands of Nelson is gall and wormwood to him and he worries quite a bit over that reversal.

It is for this reason, coupled with the laudable ambition of regaining the lightweight title from Nelson that he has sequestered himself and is taking the nature cure.

One thing that pleases Gans greatly about his coming fight is that it will take place so shortly.

PLEASED AT PROSPECTS.

"You can say for me," said Joe, that I am greatly pleased that I will not have to go around the Horn to get Nelson. I thought after he defeated me that I would have to take on a number of the lesser lights of the ring before I got to him, but this is not the case and I will get to him the first man I meet.

JOE IS CONFIDENT.

"I will beat Nelson next time. I can outbox him, I can outpunch him, and I know the game better than he does. Of course, I will not hold him so cheaply as I did last time. This time I will go into the ring in the very best condition and I will fight him a different sort of fight. A more careful fight for old Joe this time.

HARD TO COME BACK

Gans is now out on a hunting trip. Billy Nolan, who has a fine 1300 acre ranch is making things pleasant for the negro fighter. Nolan is not with

Because of the persistent rumors about the condition, or rather lack of condition, of Joe Gans, ex-lightweight champion of the world, THE TRIBUNE sent its representative to Middletown, Lake county, Cal., to ascertain the facts in the case of Gans.

Ever since the defeat of Gans, the old hag, Dame Rumor, has been playing havoc with the Baltimorean. Shortly after the defeat of the famous boxer one rumor had it that Gans was in such a terrible condition that serious results might ensue. Less rampant go-sip had it that Gans was, in the vernacular of the street, "all in, down and out."

To clear up these rumors and to give the readers of THE TRIBUNE the facts in the case, this paper sent one of its sport staff to see Gans, talk with him and get a true line on him. The results of THE TRIBUNE'S representative chat with Gans is given below, and should prove very interesting reading to the followers of sport all over the country.

Gans but he is seeing to it that he is having a nice time and that he is getting full benefit of his visit to Middletown.

Billy would not talk about Gans' condition. He declared that he had little interest in the coming fight and beyond saying that Gans has improved a great deal since his arrival at Lake county, own he would not go on record.

The negro said that he has always come back and beaten the few men in the ring that beat him. "I came back and licked Ernie after he beat me, and I also beat Elbow McFarland. For this reason I think my next shot at Nelson will be for more successful than was my last. I realize now that he is a very tough boy and a hard one to beat, and I am going to fight him according to that idea and not as I did before."

VISITORS AT CAMP

Gans has had quite a number of visitors up to see him and he has expressed great confidence in his ability to beat Nelson next time. He has advised his close friends to have a lot on him.

The one thing that sticks out in Gans' present plans is his great desire to get close to nature and woo back from her the vitality with which she once endowed him and of which she recently stripped him. It is a classic attempt to battle nature. Gans is not the first fighter who has made this attempt. Young Corbett, Terry McGovern and other fighters made earnest attempts to regain their vitality and stamina after they had lost it in a measure.

Whether Gans will be able to accomplish the task he has set out for himself or not remains to be seen. His fate is in the merciless hands of time. Maybe time will be kind to him. Maybe not. We will see.

TAKING LONG CHANCE.

Of course, Gans has a wonderful advantage over such fighters. He has never had any functional disorders, and has always been a neat and clean liver. But Gans is making the attempt to regain his stamina at an age when it must be admitted that the chances are none too great in his favor. He says he will do the thing that no man before him has done—regain the championship from the man to whom he lost it. This is the age of miracles and those who are alert to certain truths hold that there is nothing impossible.

Whether Gans will be able to accomplish the task he has set out for himself or not remains to be seen. His fate is in the merciless hands of time. Maybe time will be kind to him. Maybe not. We will see.

FIGHTERS CONFIDENT AND READY FOR HARD STRUGGLE

Ketchel and Kelly Will Meet in San Francisco Arena to Decide Championship Tonight.

BY EDDIE SMITH.

When Stanley Ketchel and Billy Kelly stand forth ready for the battle of twenty rounds in which the long end of a good steel pipe and Ketchel's newly won title of middleweight champion will be at stake the fans of California will have an opportunity to see two of the finest specimens of human fighting machinery that has ever entered the ring in San Francisco to do battle, one against the other.

Kelly with the cool, steady, firm mouth of a veteran of many big fights will enter that ring with a full knowledge of the fact that he is going to have a hard fight. He is confident that he will win. He is confident that he will win. He is confident that he will win.

With Ketchel things are so different. With the fiery dash of youth, the strength of a young lion and all the fighting powers of a bull terrier, he will enter the ring as determined and sure of victory as he is that he is alive. Ketchel the word fight is a new word. He does not like to hear it used and will not consider it at all if it is used to his fighting ability.

Kelly has confidence. In fairness to Kelly it must be said however that in the face of the fact that he has been placed at the head of the list by the betting odds, he is not at all confident that he will not lose. He is confident that he will win. He is confident that he will win.

Kelly has had the advantage of seeing Ketchel in action and says that he is sure he can do the trick. He saw Ketchel win from Papke at Milwaukee but according to those who saw him lose to the Italian he was so much at sea in the fight that he could not do it. He is confident that he will win. He is confident that he will win.

WHAT FAITH MEANS Jacob A. Reis tells a story of how his father was won over by the faith of a neighbor. The neighbor was a Jew and was unaffiliated with any church or synagogue. After the fight he admitted that the following morning it appeared that the elder Reis and his neighbor had a disagreement over the matter of a fence between their fields. It should be built one way and the other just as it should be built the other way. The neighbor said that he would build it the way the other wanted. The neighbor said that he would build it the way the other wanted. The neighbor said that he would build it the way the other wanted.

Reis turned to his family and said: "A full faith that is not to be evaded. I will do it. I will do it. I will do it."

KETCHEL'S FAITH This faith that is expressed in the other is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other.

It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other.

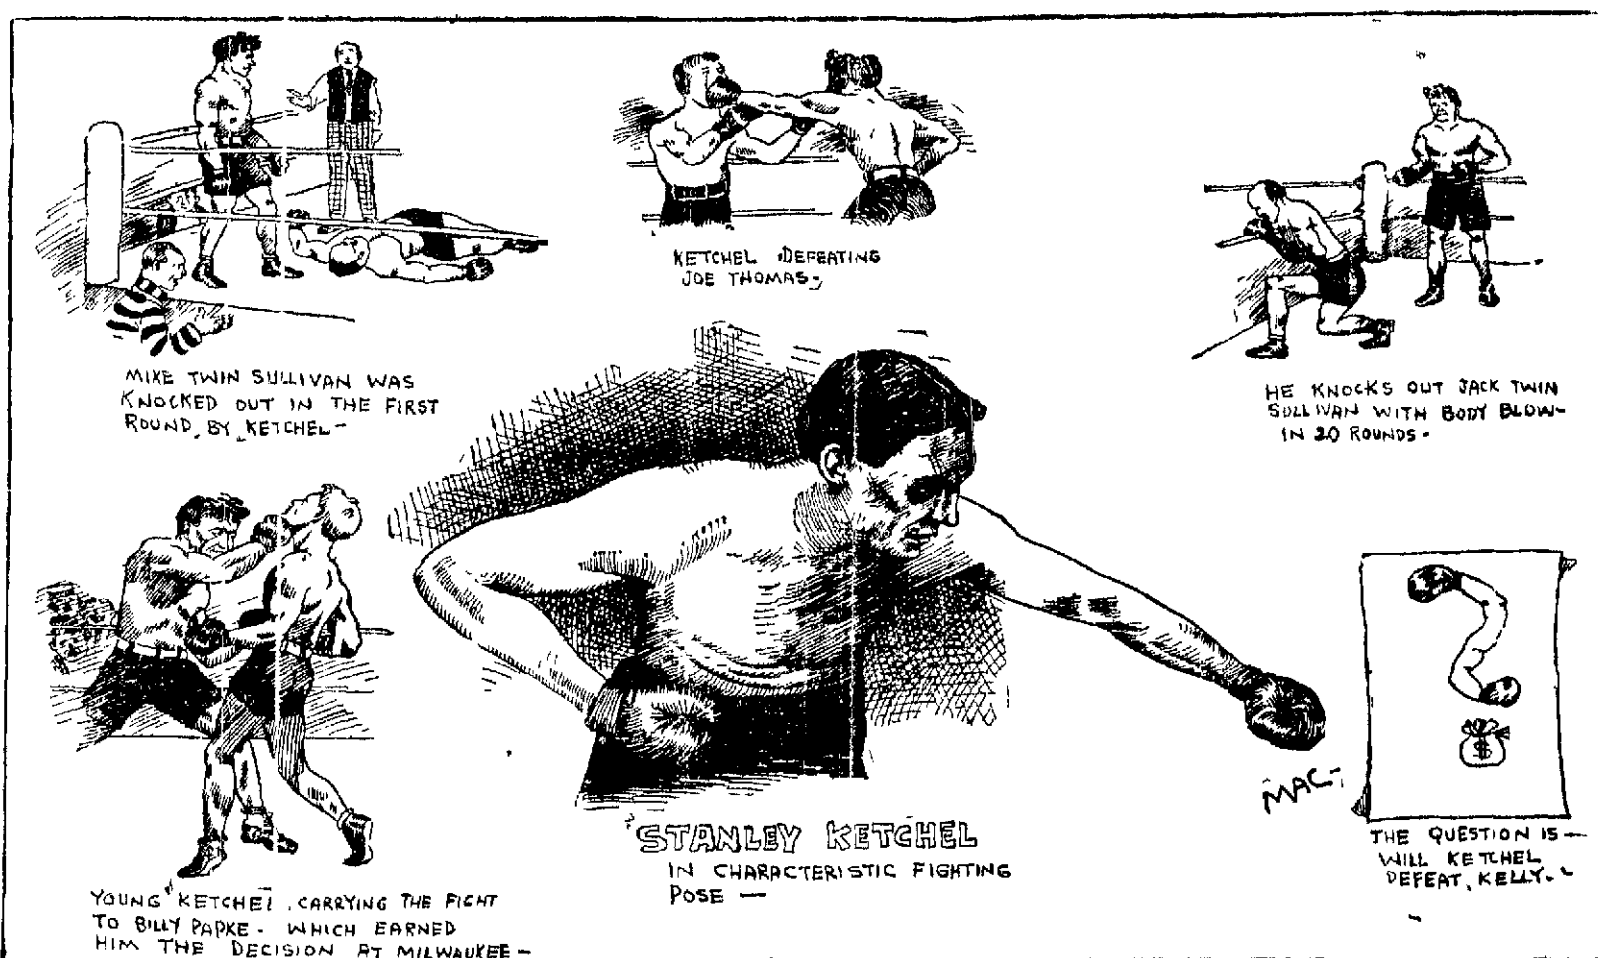

It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other.

It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other.

It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other.

It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other. It is the faith that is expressed in the other.

CRACK ENGLISH RUGBY TEAM IS NOT COMING

Lovers of the Rugby game of football have received quite a severe set back in the announcement received at Stanford yesterday by Graduate Manager Ralph Merritt that the champion English team that is now touring New Zealand will be unable to visit here this season and play games with Stanford and California. The champions are now at Auckland and were scheduled to arrive in Vancouver this fall but from the cablegram received yesterday the chances are that they have changed their routing.

Merritt hearing of the tour of the English team took it upon himself to try to arrange a series of games with the champions and the universities and the Olympic club and the Barbadians, and he is much disappointed at the sad turn events have taken.

John Claudianes Leads Police to Cache of Dynamite in Sausalito Hills.

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 31. — According to Officer Porter, of the local police, the Oakland dynamiters, Peter Claudianes and Paulavertus, were in Phoenix, last Tuesday. He says Paulavertus was positively identified and his companion resembled closely the description of the other Greek fugitive. Porter failed to arrest them as he had read that the two men had been arrested in Elko, Nevada. He believes they went southward on Tuesday evening's train.

HIDDEN DYNAMITE.

SAUSALITO, July 31. — Concealed in a small hole in the hillside back of the railroad shops north of Sausalito, a number of sticks of dynamite were yesterday found by Detective Charles Goff, who was guided to the cache by John Claudianes, the confessed dynamiter.

The explosive was neatly covered with earth and stones, and was at a point on the hill where few would be likely to go.

EXPLOSIVE CONFISCATED.

Goff took the dynamite to San Francisco and turned it over to Detective William J. Burns, who is assisting District Attorney Langdon in the solving of the mystery that was partially exposed by the confession of Claudianes.

The dynamite was discovered several days ago by some boys who were playing on the hill and had wandered to the point where the explosive was hidden. The boys reported their find to the authorities at Sausalito, who visited the place and covered the dynamite as it had been when first found. District Attorney Langdon was then notified, and he in turn directed Detective Burns to look into the matter.

POINTED OUT THE PLACE.

Claudianes was closely questioned and at first denied he knew of the existence of the cache. Then, in a burst of confidence he said he knew all about the hidden explosive and would willingly lead anyone to it.

When Goff and Claudianes arrived in Sausalito the detective did not give the dynamiter any directions, but told him to lead him to the place of concealment, which he did.

It is believed that the dynamite was hidden by Peter Claudianes.

KNOCKED DOWN ON STREET BY THUG

Would-Be Highwayman Strikes Victim Stinging Blow in Face and Runs Away.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Adolph Bohnert, a bartender, residing at 1118 Market street, had an exciting encounter with a man whom he believed intended to rob him at the corner of Hayes street and Van Ness avenue shortly before midnight last night.

Bohnert was on his way home and had just reached the corner when a man ran up to him and gave him a stinging blow in the face, which sent him reeling to the pavement. He was stunned for a moment by the fall, but was conscious of his assailant bending over him. As he arose to his feet the man started off and ran down the street at a lively rate, evidently scared by the approach of W. S. Drayton of 718 Golden Gate avenue up Hayes street.

TRIED TO GET IN THROUGH WINDOW

Would-Be Burglar Suspected by Police of a Number of Crimes in This City.

Policemen Curran and Rowe last night caught a man giving the name of E. Lindsey, colored, in the act of trying to force the doors and windows of a residence at 804 North Harrison street and looked him up in the City Prison pending an investigation. It is suspected by the police that he is responsible for a number of burglaries in this city in the past month. His actions were watched for some time. He tried first the doors and then the windows of the house, and was then arrested.

BURGULARS ROB STORE.

Garfinkle Brothers of 111 Broadway, reported to the police this morning that some time during last night a burglar broke into their place of business and stole a leather suit case, several pairs of socks, a quantity of underwear, eleven 1/2 handkerchiefs, fancy vests, ties and other articles, all to the value of $90.

JEWELRY REPORTED STOLEN.

Burglars entered the premises at 471 Fourth street last night and stole a quantity of jewelry from a bureau drawer. The stolen property consists of a diamond ring, a ruby ring surrounded with diamonds, a plain gold band ring, imitation diamond earrings and a crocodile purse containing $10 in gold.

CASHED WORTHLESS CHECK.

David McLaughlin of C. J. Heesman's store at 1111 Washington street, reported to the police this morning that he had sold a man a suit of clothes and given him $32.50 change for a $55 check signed in the name of C. B. Ripley. The check was presented by a man giving the name of J. G. Boynton and has been returned from the bank marked worthless.

Startling Exposures by Chief Market, Meat and Milk Inspector.

(The following from local papers of this week.)
Inspector Archibald makes the rather startling statement that at least thirty per cent of the dairy cows in Alameda county are affected with tuberculosis and that these tuberculous animals, after becoming unsuitable for dairy purposes, are sold to the butchers and then to the meat consumers for food despite the fact that they are in advanced stages of disease.

No Such Conditions Here! We Invite Inspection! Come and See!

WE BUY OUR CATTLE ALIVE! WE DO OUR OWN KILLING! NO DAIRY CATTLE IN OUR STOCK. We positively guarantee every pound of meat sold from this market to be of the best grade possible to obtain, and we quote you prices on same at less money than other leaders will on much inferior meat.
